

DELL YOUNG LEADERS

Michael & Susan Dell Foundation

Your Connection to Future-Ready Graduate Talent

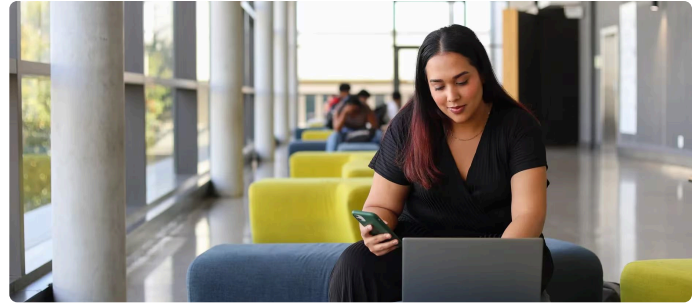

The Dell Young Leaders programme connects skilled, career-ready university graduates to employers building high performing teams — with no placement fees and candidates matched to hiring needs.

Our graduates are equipped to contribute and grow in today's evolving workplace.

The programme co-creates graduate pipelines that reduce recruitment costs, improve retention, and expand access to future leadership talent.

The Challenge

Finding skilled, reliable graduate talent is difficult, and getting harder. Even in a flooded market, hiring remains costly and slow — often leading to poor matches and missing in-demand skills.

A Smarter Way to Hire

We become your graduate talent partner, pre-screening and shortlisting candidates who align with your hiring needs.

Dell Young Leaders aren't traditional candidates. We've supported and developed these high-potential graduates throughout their university journeys.

Our young leaders are career-ready talent we know well and trust to meet your skills needs. This means you can focus on hiring for the right fit, not sifting through hundreds of applications.
